THE DAILY NEWS.

VIRGINIA has a Lieutenant-Governor after a contest nearly as protracted as the one in West Virginia for the U. S. Senate. Henry G. Thomas is the successor of Withers, who is elected to the Senate.

A crowd "panicked" in New York the other day, "a man" "suicided" in the same city, and the press reporters chronicle the disasters in grammar about as harrowing as the calamities themselves. Telegraphic condensation is working the death of "the Queen's English."

As will be seen in the midnight telegrams of Saturday night, the Civil Rights Bill passed the Senate, and goes to the President for his signature. The Force Bill has also passed with some modification. We are thus compelled to modify the hopes expressed in another article. We have no room for comments today.

The Legislature expects to adjourn on the 10th inst. Possibly it may do so, but most probably not until the 15th. The bill for the public debt is yet to be considered in the House. The various bills in relation to the North Carolina and Western North Carolina Railroads are still to be acted on. The machinery and revenue bills are only just taken up, and other questions of importance to be dealt with. The committees, however, are through with their heaviest labors, which from the complicated nature of some of the subjects, have been exceedingly onerous, and industrious use of night sessions will make the final adjournment probable on the 10th, possible, if not certain on the 15th.

Of course we cannot tell what may have happened by the time this goes to press, but the indications are that the madness of Radicalism has been checked, and that the threatening dangers to the South, and to the liberties of the country, are averted. We will have owed as much to those Republicans whose broad nationality has burst the shackles of party, as to those Democrats who have all the while been steadfast. Without the former, the heroism of the latter would have been fruitless. They would have gone down, crushed beyond the invincible weight of numbers, if the party in the majority had all been swayed by the same bad passions, or controlled by the unscrupulous will of an ambitious President. There is a hope for the country yet when in the temptation to confirm for all time the ascendancy of one party, there are to be found men in that party brave enough to resist the temptation.

ELECTION OF TRUSTEES. On Saturday the General Assembly proceeded to fill the vacancy in the Board occasioned by the death of Claud B. Saunders, and the prospective vacancies to occur on the first of January, 1876. Hon. B. F. Moore was elected to the first, and for the others, the selections were eminently wise and proper. Several of the present Board were re-elected, among them, Messrs. K. P. Battle and P. C. Cameron—gentlemen intensely absorbed in the welfare of the University that an oversight of them would have been a calamity to the institution, now just beginning to feel the impulses of reviving life. The Legislature, however, had full appreciation of their value, for their election was almost unanimous. We are glad to see Maj. Seaton Gales, of this city, admitted to the Board. Himself a graduate of the University with its first honors, he has as much as any man in the State illustrated its usefulness; and he repays his obligations to his Alma Mater by an ardent zeal for its welfare which insures his active interest in whatever measures may be adopted for its advancement.

We mention these gentlemen without disparagement to the others. The selections are all good, wise and politic.

FEBRUARY went out characterized all over the country by storm and floods, more suitable to lusty summer than to the modest small month of the winter.

THE PROPOSITION TO TAX THE CITY.

Radical management in this city has grown so insolent by the long control, almost undisputed, that it has had of municipal affairs, that it cannot look upon the prospect of a transfer of power with decent equanimity.

Perhaps it is hard to give up the "flesh pots of Egypt," out of which they have so long fattened. It is harder still to see another management come in, to receive the applause of grateful and relieved tax-payers for economical and honest administration of affairs—a commendation which ought to inflict as keen a pang as the loss of power and the control of the public purse. But they are hardships it must submit to, yet not without a struggle of resistance that is almost as much come as offensive. It is ludicrous to see this defeated faction gravely asking the disenthralled tax-payers to permit themselves to be taxed to enthrall them again. It becomes offensive when it speaks of the action of "certain irresponsible parties" applying to the General Assembly, &c., such irresponsible men as Judge Battle and Judge Fowle, and the imposing array of honorable and respected names that led this movement against a domination that had become intolerable.

The sensible, liberal and unpartisan action of Mr. H. M. Miller prevented the adoption on Friday and Saturday nights, of a resolution which looks to trouble-some litigation, undertaken for no other purpose than the re-instatement of a party so emphatically condemned at the last election that common modesty should have insured silence.

OUR FOURTH YEAR.

To-day the News enters upon the fourth year of its existence, and its editors can point with laudable pride and satisfaction to its sound and healthy condition, and indulge in the confident belief that its permanency is assured.

The News was offered to the large and growing population of Raleigh as an additional medium of information, with the expectation that energy and intelligent recognition of the wants of the community would make it a welcome visitor into every household, and a valuable addition to the diffusion of information. And to the State at large it presented itself as a candidate for favor as a medium for the spread of sound political doctrine, of accurate commercial intelligence, and as a warm and steady advocate of all the best interests of the commonwealth.

The experience of the last three years has been most satisfactory, as establishing the acceptability of the undertaking and the prudence of its management. At the end of these three years the News finds itself growing in prosperity, increasing in popularity, and firmly fixed in the respect and confidence of the people.

It is the determination of the News Company to make their paper a success by the most unsparing effort to deserve it. It asks no favors but what it merits, and courts no recompense that it does not earn.

The editorial management has been embarrassed of late by the disability of its editor-in-chief, Major Dunham, and the multiplicity of the engagements of the present Associate. But the latter will be released in a short time from other occupations, and will devote his whole time to the News until such time as Major Dunham may resume his duties.

It may be as well to state that the Associate is absolutely untrammelled in his course, and is perfectly free to pursue the dictates of his own tastes or judgment. To those who know him the suggestion will convey all that is needed.

The News enters upon its fourth year with grateful acknowledgment of the liberal support it has heretofore received, and with the earnest hope and confident belief that its support will be largely strengthened.

Two English bishops denounce cremation—Bishop Wordsworth, because the fire is a symbol of punishment, and has always looked upon as the peculiar doom of the wicked; Bishop Selwyn, because it is an emblem of purification and of the process undergone by the regenerate soul.

Sir Edward Thornton, the British Minister at Washington, has begun giving dinners in the great dining-room of the new British Legation, on Connecticut avenue, but there will be no balls there until after the return of Lady Thornton and her daughters next autumn.

The New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor has expended this winter seventy-six thousand dollars, and is asking for more money.

The Radicals in Congress are getting excited. Filled on all sides, their indecency and want of all true gentlemanly feeling is apparent. Profanity and scurrilous language employed only one member—and he is most justified in what he said—he has rebuked by the Speaker. Contradiction fly around as thick as leaves in November. The lie is freely told but thinly veiled; persons at insults are lavishly employed; and the attempted broadwaying by the majority is perfectly scandalous. It is well that these things are the antediluvian protests of men who have been repudiated by their constituents; who do, not represent the people; and who, having been discharged from the Houses of Congress, like angry boys insist upon doing what damage lies in their power before parting.

If the French ever regain Strasburg they will have to take one of the strongest fortifications in Europe. The Germans are adding immensely to its forts and lines of defense. And with all the other guards of the new country, the fortifications will be used to render it impregnable. Obviously Bismarck has no belief in any permanent peace except one that is compulsory. And he is right.

CONSUMPTIVES, TAKE NOTICE: Every man and woman likes to carry himself and his dress in the most becoming and attractive style. The amount of testimony in favor of Dr. Schenck's "Puff and Sweep" is overwhelming. For each article that can be brought to support the pretensions of any other medicine, Dr. Schenck's "Aromatic" persons of the highest respectability, who have been restored to health by physicians of acknowledged ability. Schenck's "Pulmonic Syrup" alone has a name of its own, and is well known; but the cure is often promoted by the employment of two other remedies with which Schenck's "Puff and Sweep" are popular. These additional remedies are Schenck's "Sea Weed Tonic and Manikra Pills." By this timely use of these medicine pills, the patient will be quickly cured, certifies that most any case of Consumption may be cured.

Dr. Schenck is professionally, at his principal office, Corner Sixth and Arch Streets, Philadelphia, every Monday, where all lectures, &c., must be addressed.

THE DAILY NEWS.

TUESDAY MARCH 2, 1854.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Newbern has a cigar manufactory. Rock fish have made their appearance in the Wilmington market.

The fishing season has opened in earnest on the branches of the Neuse below Newbern.

Erysipelas is prevailing as an epidemic, in the neighborhood of Winder, Bertie county.

The schooner Chas. E. Gibson, from the coast of Spain, is ashore off Cape Hatteras.

Lawyer Bryan, the murderer of Michael Langley, who was sentenced to be hanged on the 28th inst., escaped from the Beaufort jail on Wednesday night and is now at large.

The population of Henderson is increasing rapidly. Business is brisk with business men, building is the order of the day and it is deemed that the town will soon extend its proportions to a little city. Go it little one, we'll let it here.

The revenue officials made a raid on Mr. Joseph Thorburn's distillery in Gaston county, and captured besides the still and fixtures, two sons of Mr. Thorburn. They were taken before a U. S. Commission and bound over to the U. S. Court.

SUMMARY.

XLIID Congress. XLIVth Congress.

Democrats..... 49 41

Independents..... 4 20

Radicals..... 1 1

Indicates the future welfare of the community upon whom the rising generation of young mechanics, if they are intelligent, sober, industrious, and consequently independent, able and accustomed to defend themselves, and governed by the conduct of their mechanics, and especially the young mechanics, will form, in conjunction with the young farmers of the country a bulwark against monopolies and corrupt politicians, and save the republic.

If, on the other hand, they are ignorant, idle, dissolute, and consequently poor, and dependent upon the world, and failing to trust in their mechanics, should not perhaps become such a class—those who would soon be converted into the mere tools of a few artful men, who having first stripped them of every sense of self-respect, and every feeling proper to virtuous citizens, would use them as passive instruments for promoting their own ambition, projects, and interests, of which they are not only beneficial to nobody but the artful few and base demagogues with whom they associate. It is true of the mechanical arts as of other professions, that "knowledge is power."

The Countess Genginti, daughter of Queen Isabella, is as thin as her royal mamma is fat, and as cross-looking as Isabella, good-natured in appearance, but is said to be of a temper "despotic" and "tyrannical," and the Parisians do not hesitate to declare that she worried the Count Genginti into committing suicide.

Both Houses of the Georgia Legislature have passed the bill creating a State Board of Health. The statistics of deaths and births are under charge of the Board. A bill has also passed the Senate allowing twelve per cent. interest on loans, and now goes to the House.

Sensible Parents.

A young lady of Ballarat, England, about contemplating matrimony, was asked by her friends what she would like; she replied that she would prefer useful to ornamental ones. Her wedding journey consisted in going from town to town, visiting cottages in the vicinity, and upon arriving there she found a barrel of flour, a jar of butter, a complete set of cooking utensils, a piece of merino, a set of crockery ware, knives, forks, spoons and glasses, enough household groceries to last six months, and on her parlour table a receipt for the pre-payment of a year's rent for the cottage, with two gilders pinned to a paper on which was written "To be used for something useful." Was not this the right kind of utilitarianism for a young couple of limited means, about starting out upon their matrimonial career, and it was not more beautiful than duplicately plated fish knives, and other trash usually given upon like occasions?

THE WRONG SIDE OF THE MERIDIAN.

One of the most popular old old medical writer quarterly terms "the wrong side of the meridian," when he was asked what she would like; she replied that she would prefer useful to ornamental ones. Her wedding journey consisted in going from town to town, visiting cottages in the vicinity, and upon arriving there she found a barrel of flour, a jar of butter, a complete set of cooking utensils, a piece of merino, a set of crockery ware, knives, forks, spoons and glasses, enough household groceries to last six months, and on her parlour table a receipt for the pre-payment of a year's rent for the cottage, with two gilders pinned to a paper on which was written "To be used for something useful." THE LEGISLATURE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

SENATE.

SIXTY-NINTH DAY.

MARCH 1st, 1875.

Senate met at 10 o'clock, Lieutenant Governor Armfield in the chair. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Atkinson. The Journal of Saturday read and approved.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Mr. Cooke, a bill to amend sec. 9 of the 65th chapter of Battle's Revisal. Referred.

Mr. Marler, an act to incorporate Yadkin River Bridge and Turnpike Company. Referred.

Mr. Jernigan, a bill authorizing Commissioners of Hertford county to issue bonds for the purpose of funding and paying the debt of the county. Referred.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Busbee, a resolution instructing the Committee on Internal Improvements to report a bill providing by taxation or otherwise for the protection of the State's interest in the North Carolina Railroad and the Western N. C. R. R. Adopted.

THE USURY QUESTION.

Mr. Williamson introduced a bill to construe the true meaning of the 6th section or ratifying clause of the Usury bill, which bill has passed both Houses. The said section leaves a doubt as to the time the said bill shall go into effect, and the time meant to go into effect within 30 days.

On motion, the rules were suspended and the bill considered and warmly discussed at some length by Messrs. French, Linney, Busbee, Williamson, Mills, Cooke, Standiford and Selby.

Mr. Busbee moved an amendment that the bill go into effect on the 1st of November, 1875.

Mr. French moved to postpone the whole question until to-morrow 12 o'clock, in order that the amendment of Mr. LeeGrand to postpone until 1st of January, 1876, (the special order for that day,) could be considered at the same time. Lost by a vote of 14 to 12.

Mr. Busbee's motion was lost by a vote of 8 to 27.

Mr. Cooke's motion to postpone the operations of the bill until 1st of November, 1875, was lost by the following vote:

Affirmative.—Messrs. Albright, Busbee, Boddie, C. M. Cooke, French, Graham, Jenkins, Jernigan, Latham, LeGrand, Love, McCauley, Mills, Pegram, Standiford, Stickney, Sugg, and Worthy—18.

Negative.—Mr. President, Messrs. Anderson, Clement, Hargrave, Linney, McElroy, Marler, McMillan, Parish, Paschall, Peebles, McSherry, Shaw, Smith, Taylor, Tucker, Walker, Williamson and Worthy—19.

The motion of Mr. Marler, then proposed, seconded, readied by a vote of 45 to 10, and being put on its third reading, Mr. Cook moved that the bill do not go into effect until the 15th of October, 1875.

Mr. Waring hoped this amendment would be adopted, as large sections of the State would be greatly damaged by the immediate operations of this bill, as he desired that the people might have time to get ready for its workings, that the arrangements already made for this year may be carried out.

Mr. Williamson wanted the bill to go into effect at once. It was the monied interests that wanted this law postponed, and he was not willing to concede anything to this class.

Mr. Cooke thought it was better to sustain his amendment, should prevail. The bill going into effect at present would work disastrously in the cotton sections of the State, arrangements having already been made for the present year between the planters, the merchants, the bankers and the capitalists, and these planters should be allowed time to make some preparations for the future.

Mr. Parish advocated the bill going into effect in 30 days. The country had already been impoverished by the enormous rates of interest charged. All parties borrowing money at such ruinous rates would break, and the sooner the better for the general welfare of the State.

The amendment of Mr. Cooke was adopted by the following vote:

Affirmative.—Messrs. Albright, Busbee, Boddie, C. M. Cooke, French, Graham, Jenkins, Jernigan, Latham, LeGrand, Love, McCauley, Mills, Pegram, Standiford, Stickney, Sugg, and Waring—20.

Negatives.—Messrs. Anderson, Clement, Hargrave, Linney, McElroy, Marler, McMillan, Parish, Paschall, Peebles, McSherry, Shaw, Smith, Taylor, Tucker, Walker, Williamson and Worthy—17.

The bill thus amended went its third reading by a vote of 21 to 16.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mr. Latham's bill preventing the setting of pod or Dutch nets in the waters of the Albemarle Sound and the rivers emptying therein passed its third reading.

Senators Anderson and Linney were in their seats to-day, having returned from the recent visit of the Legislative Committee to Statesville, Asheville and other points to select a location for a branch Insane asylum.

HOUSE REPRESENTATIVES.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock, Mr. Speaker Robinson in the Chair. Journal of yesterday read and approved.

PETITIONS.

By Mr. Richardson, a petition from citizens of Columbus county asking a prohibitory liquor law within two miles of Mt. Zion Baptist Church in said county.

Reports from Standing Committees were submitted by Messrs. Shackell, Ford, Staton, Walker, of Tyrrel, and Fifer.

BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS.

House bill to attach the county of Watauga to the 10th judicial district, and to change the time of Watauga and Arkansas, and to expire at the end of two years. The bill was passed by a vote of yeas 135, nays 114. Before the last vote was taken on the passage of the bill, Mr. George said he desired the country to know one fact, that out of the 40 Democratic representatives from the States to be affected by the provisions of this bill, not one of them have been allowed a word in discussion upon its merits, but on the contrary, the gentlemen in charge of it has thought proper to deny time to any of the representatives from Southern States who intended to oppose the bill, and to give it a few minutes to two or three of them.

The bill making Pascagoula, Miss., a port of delivery, passed.

In the House the bill to secure the further security navigation of the Mississippi river, passed.

The Tax bill was resumed.

Chandler gave notice that he would call up the Steamboat bill to night.

Merrill addressed the Senate on the Tax bill, which he reported without amendment. He hoped no amendment would be passed, as a single one would endanger the bill. It is estimated that the increase of revenue to the State will be $1,000,000, severals and a half millions from molasses, two millions from cigars and twelve millions from whisky.

House—Messrs. Lowndes, Pierce, Sevier and Smith of Virginia, voted against recognizing Kellogg as Governor of Louisiana.

Appropriation bills have been resumed.

Both Houses have a session to night.

NOON DISPATCHES.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Grant signs the Civil Rights Bill—The Land of the Land—The Last Clause of the Bill—Concressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The Legislature passed resolutions of censure upon the State Treasurer for negligence and bad management in office, directing the Governor to appoint an assistant to rectify and inaugurate a new system, also directing and providing for a thorough investigation of the financial condition of the State. There has been no defalcation, only careless management. Speaker Harlan on adjourning the House, said, "I am anxious to vindicate the law and said that patient submission to wrong would stimulate the sense of right in the hearts of the American people."

Foreign.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The Minister of Foreign Affairs, without consulting Colleagues, sent a circular to the Powers concerning Gustav and other Affairs. The Cabinet Council consider the same provisions and regulations as are now provided by law for the review of other causes in said courts.

The force bill was received from the House of Representatives and read the first time. Thursday Bayard and others read the second time and the bill remains on the table till to-morrow. The reading will throw it over another day.

It will come up on direct issue Wednesday, and the session closes Thursday noon. The Democrats are all determined that the bill shall not reach the president.

House—A motion to suspend the reading and debate of resolutions reported by the Louisiana committee, was defeated, yeas 154, nays 85, not two-thirds in the affirmative. A similar motion to bring the resolution to a vote directly and separately was carried, yeas 172, nays 85, Stephens, of Georgia being the only Democrat passed its readings.

House bill to attach that portion of Craven county north of Adam's Creek, to Carteret, passed its readings.

House bill to incorporate the town of Franklinville, in Randolph county, passed its readings.

House bill to amend chapter 120, section 1, Battle's Revisal, providing for the establishment of a wreck district for the county of Dare, passed.

MACHINERY ACT.

At 12 o'clock the House went into a committee of the whole on the consideration of the machinery act. The bill was taken up and discussed by section. At the hour of adjournment not more than half of the bill had been perfected.
